LOCATION

The property is situated in Bo'ness, an established town in East Lothian, situated on the southern banks of the River Forth along the A904, approximately 10 miles east of Falkirk and 18 miles west of Edinburgh.

The property benefits from excellent road links, with Junctions 5 and 3 of the M9 nearby, making Bo'ness a popular commuter town for Edinburgh.

The property is in a mixed residential and commercial area, with nearby occupiers including Walker Timber, Lidl, and William McLucas & Sons. The main facility is bordered by commercial units to the west, with residential properties across Starks Brae.

Property Details

DESCRIPTION

The site is a historic foundry complex, established in 1856, which provides a substantial and adaptable industrial facility that has been extended and enhanced throughout its long operational history.

The main complex comprises a series of industrial-style units with associated office and ancillary accommodation, ranging from single to three storeys.

A more modern warehouse/workshop is situated toward the western boundary.

Buildings fronting Links Road and Starks Brae are generally two-storey rendered brick structures with pitched roofs clad in cement fibre sheeting. This part of the site is listed as a historic industrial building, with a grade B listing.

The main complex provides flexible workshop, pattern storage, and ancillary accommodation, alongside office space and a first-floor flat adjacent to the main office.

Principal workshops feature solid floors, brick and cement fibre walls, eaves heights ranging from 3.0 to 5.6 metres, and integrated craneage.

Pattern stores are arranged over ground, first, and second floors, with both solid and timber floors. Office areas offer a mix of open-plan and cellular layouts.

Additional accommodation includes a two-bedroom flat, staff and crew facilities, and a shower block.
